

Ride out / Posh Pigs to Lowestoft (Kensington Gardens)

05.05.2025 (One fine Sunday)

Three riders, Mike O'Sullivan, Paul Unwin and David Robertson headed from Posh Pigs on Ellough Industrial Estate to Lowestoft to visit Kensington Gardens.

The ride was uneventful. Several birds crossed the road flying and the traffic was light.

We drove on the A146 mostly and through Carlton Colville when we got to Lowestoft, on the bypass. We went through to Pakefield and down a part of the high street. We came back on ourselves to drive along the seafront in the sunshine to Claremont pier where we parked our bikes and walked to Kensington Gardens a famous Lowestoft café 😊

Note to others Mike likes to park closer to any café to avoid walking. I enjoy some walking. Paul did not really comment, assuming he was ok with some walking.

These boots (Motorcycling) are meant for biking 😊

I enjoyed the ride and felt great after an interesting chat at the café. I owe Mike a tea and some cake. Paul was very well behaved, and I think we left the café with good feelings.

I went a different way home to the other two and Paul and Mike had a nice drive home via Somerleyton.

A resounding cheer was heard as we each got home safely.
